The architectural plans worked out by the CHA Board, the faculty, Mr. J.J. McComb, (CHA Alumnus, former Claiborne County resident) and Mr. McComb's New York architect, provided one of the most interesting Queen Anne structures in the State of Miss.

It was basically symmetrical, but was very picturesque because it had a turret and a clock tower of different heights prominent on the front. The high roof was covered with dormers and tall chimneys.

The architectural plan for the new location of CHA at Woodstock on the southern limits of Port Gibson began to be realized with the building of McComb Building in 1900, named in honor of J.J. McComb for his generous gift towards its erection, and Guthrie Hall in 1901, named in honor of Professor W.C. Guthrie, President of CHA. The frame house for the president to the southwest of Guthrie was built in 1902.

Redus Hall

Guthrie Hall

With the fire of 1924, on a very cold night in January, upon renovation, many of the architectural details of McComb Building were omitted.

At the time McComb Building was renovated, Redus Hall just to the north, was built that in 1926, McComb Building was located in the heart of the campus, with Redus to the north and Guthrie to the south, and functioned as the heart of the school.

Though future buildings extended to the southeast, there is still the "concept" that McComb Building is the heart of the school because it contains the library, the Senior High classrooms, the auditorium-chapel, and the Administration offices, and is the "heart of the campus."

Science Building

McComb Building

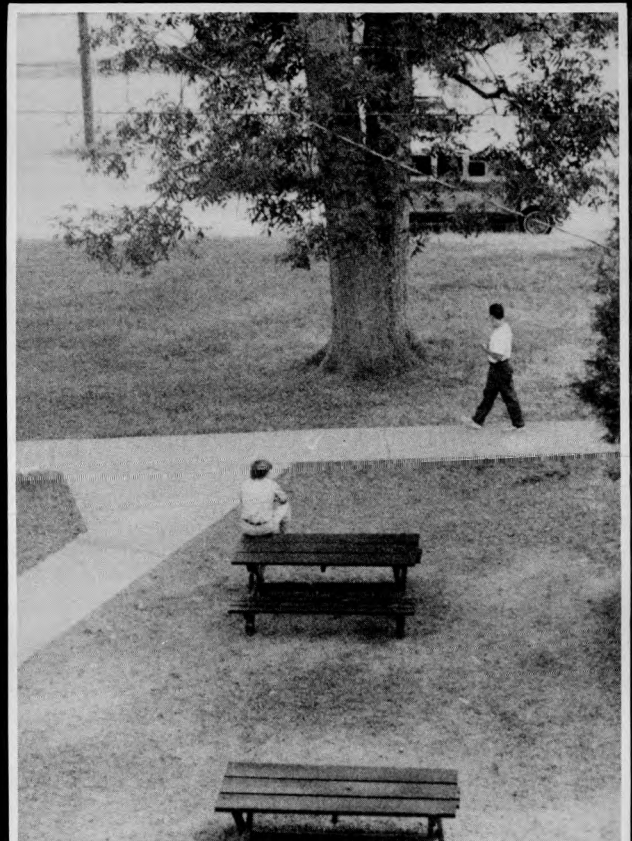

A Back View Of Our Campus

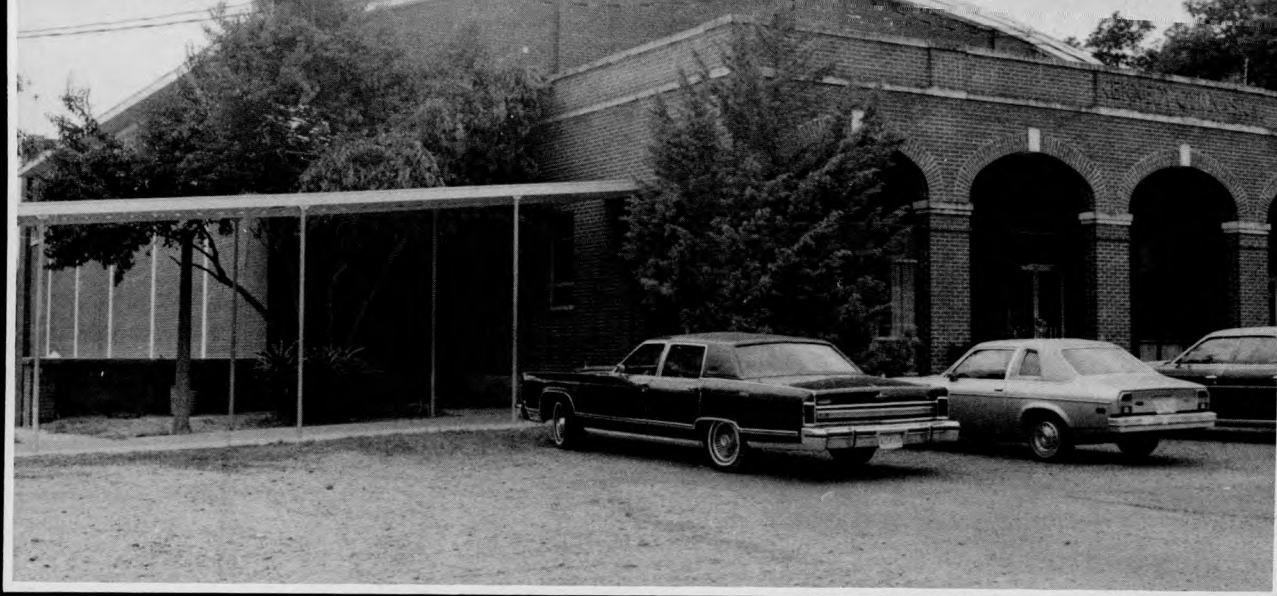

When in 1971, the Board affirmed that any qualified student would be admitted to the Academy, the faculty residence on McComb Ave, east of the campus was converted into a "makeshift" dormitory for girls. When that became full, the Board authorized the construction of a girls dormitory which when completed in 1975 was named Kathleen McKenzie Dormitory. It is located north of the President's Home.

A Science Building was constructed east of Jenkins Infirmary in 1972 and dedicated to the memory of R.D. Gage, Jr., Chairman of the Board from 1957-1970. This building today is used also for Junior High Classes.

The Bolling Dining Hall, located east of Science Bldg., was completed in 1976 and named for the Rev. Richard A. Bolling, a 1905 Graduate of CHA and a valued member of the Board for many years.

Kennedy Gymnasium

A gymnasium and recreation building was constructed east of Gage Hall in 1956 and named in honor and memory of Col. J.W. Kennedy, President from 1921-1942.

In 1964, an infirmary was built on the east side of Kennedy Gym and named for Dr. W.N. Jenkins, a long-time school physician and member of the Board. A plaque in the infirmary expresses appreciation to the Women of the Church of Ms. for their donations of energy and funds towards financing this building.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY

Mr. Dick Kinser
President

History 1879-1981

Chamberlain-Hunt Academy, chartered in 1877, has been in continuous operation since 1879 at Port Gibson, Mississippi. Owned and operated by the Presbyterian Church, Synod of the Mid-South, it is one of the oldest educational institutions controlled by that body. It is the successor to Oakland College, founded in 1830 but discontinued to 1871. The Name honors Dr. Jeremiah Chamberlain, first president of Oakland College, and Mr. David Hunt, its generous benefactor.

Chamberlain-Hunt has, since its inception, endeavored to be, as called for in its charter, "an institution of liberal Christian learning." It is to date a college preparatory school for boys and girls. The energies of its staff are dedicated to molding good character in young people during the formative years of their lives.

Military training is required of all cadets. Besides learning self-discipline and developing leadership, a cadet learns to accept responsibility, to take and give orders, to practice cleanliness, punctuality, and courtesy.

Philosophy And Purpose

Chamberlain-Hunt believes that each boy entrusted to its care has certain God-given talents which he has an obligation to use. If, through self neglect, he is not using, training or developing these talents, the Academy will make every effort to motivate him to do so. Every cadet is a God-created individual and it is the concern of the staff that "he grow in wisdom and in stature, and in favor with God and man."

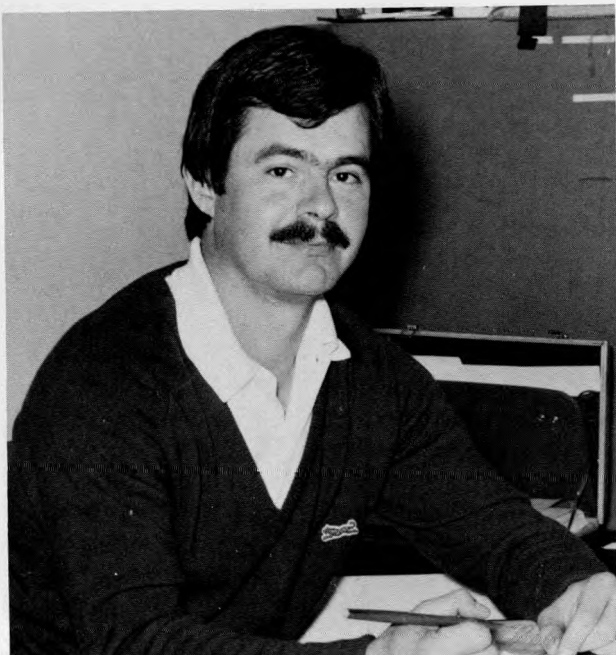

In our permissive society of today too many of our youth lack discipline and the drive to succeed in the art of living. The disciplined, Christian atmosphere on the campus can mean that a boy may grow, develop and mature into a disciplined, stable, Christian man rather than an unstrained, undisciplined individual who will become a parasite on society.

We feel that all youth have the right to the best adult world has to offer, but they should realize their obligations to self and society for the privilege of having access to a formal education. The Church, home and school have their part in the education of youth. However, for those entrusted to the care of the Academy, it supplants the home in the influence on the cadet. We accept this responsibility as a sacred trust and are aware that only through the guidance of God can we realize the goal of being a vital, functioning arm of the Presbyterian Church.

Homecoming Spirit!!

HOMECOMING 1980

This year Homecoming Festivities started off great with the Bonfire. This was a big success along with the passing-in-review. We then had a big pep rally on the front campus. The senior football players joined in the cheerleading, generating even more excitement.

Later that afternoon . . . the rain began to fall. Homecoming pictures of the court were taken indoors at the President's home. There was much anticipation about what would happen that night, weather-wise. The court decided to go through with the original plans, rain and all. The cheerleaders and team worked hard for a victory, but were not successful.

After the sorrow of the defeat, everyone managed to have a good time at the dance. The day and night had truly been an "experience" to remember for many years to come.

Give our thoughts and best wishes to you.
A memorable day is soon to fall upon

As you look back towards this hill
You'll feel a run of a cold chill.
Tears will fall and fill your eyes
As you turn and say goodbye.

The Juniors raised money this year for the Prom by having a slave auction, bakesale, and raffle. They worked extremely hard on decorations. After the Dance, most everyone went to the "River" and then to Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Hatcher's home for breakfast. It was a night everyone enjoyed.

Go For It!!

Go Whoosh!

The Varsity Girls did real well this year. They made a big improvement over the previous years. In December they played in the Sharkey Tournament, winning 2nd place. The team won 3rd place in the Copiah Tournament in January. The Lady Wildcats were 2nd in the conference at the end of the regular season. In the South AA Conference Tournament they suffered a great loss to Amite. The season ended with a record of 20-10. The best record the girls have ever had at CHA! We hope to be #1 in the State next year!! The district coaches selected William Easley-Coach of the Year, and Clyde and Clare Nelson were chosen All-Conference.

* Honors

One of the most thought-provoking and emotion-filled parts of graduation is the retiring of the flag by the members of the Senior Class. An Old tradition, the ceremony brings tears to those of us who participate by understanding the significance of it to the departing Senior Cadets.

Seniors relax--"We made it!!"
