A special time at Homecoming 2001 to pray for our country, one month after the attack on Our Home.

Homecoming Week

Homecoming week was a good bit of fun, even if we had to do schoolwork every day.

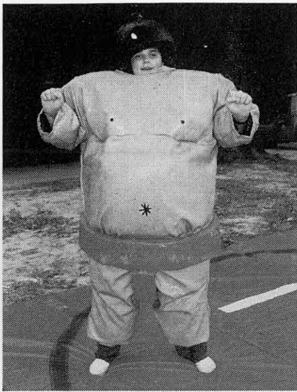

The first three days were normal. We had school all day, and we were wearing our uniforms. But there were signs all over telling us to get ready for homecoming.

Thursday was red, white, and blue day in honor of our country in this troubling time. It felt good to do that. It was also fun to wear civilians.

Friday was even more fun. We got to wear blue jeans and homecoming T-shirts. We only had the first two periods, then we went to the football field. Once there, we made our homecoming signs and had an awesome time.

Rachel Howell

Blanton's Homecoming Party
*Yesterday, at night,
 there were games and fun.
 Around 6:30
 it had all begun.*

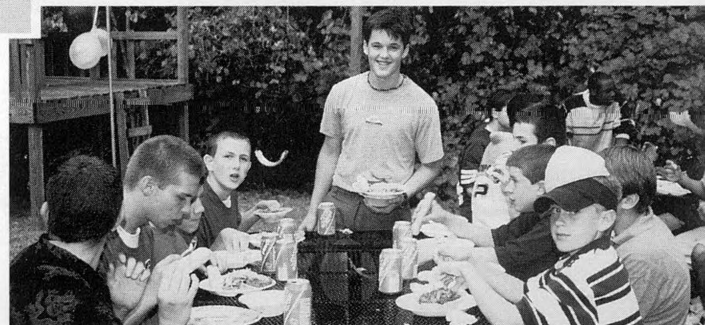

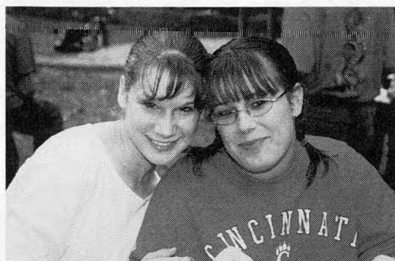

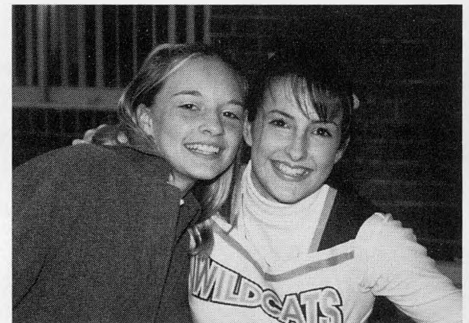

*There was sumo wrestling.
 I played and was beaten bad.
 Kick, boom, smack, wham!
 I did get in one blow and I was glad.*

*There was a Vekro wall.
 You could jump and get stuck.
 I once did a flip.
 I was stuck upside down.
 What luck!*

*Different, funny fun.

The Velcro Wall
*It was fun but not easy.
 It was cool but also funny.
 The best time was when we took the little kids
 and hung them upside down.
 I wish I owned a Velcro wall.
 It would be so cool if I had one because I would be on it everyday.
 All day-
 and even take good care of it.

Who Are The Crusaders?

The Crusader program was begun at CHA under the leadership of Commandant Shane Blanton. The purpose of the program is to challenge cadets to reach their highest potential in important areas of their lives.

Beginning last January, the aspiring Crusaders were pushed to attain high levels of physical stamina and to survive extreme outdoors conditions during a series of weekend excursions. They were taught outdoor survival skills and were timed in runs and hikes. Through numerous exercises, the participating cadets learned more about their own strengths and weaknesses, and they emerged as more capable and responsible leaders. In addition to possessing exceptional physical strength and stamina, the successful Crusader is expected to be honest and virtuous and is held to the highest levels of accountability and integrity in all areas of his life.

Of the 32 cadets who set out to become Crusaders, only 6 attained the goal. The Crusader is an accomplished cadet- a man set apart. He is distinguished in his dress by military boots, a black beret, and a silver cross on his dress tunic. In essence, however, he is distinguished by the expectations that are set for him and by the depth of his desire to reach them.

-if My people, who are called by My name, will humble themselves and pray and seek My face and turn from their wicked ways, then will I hear from heaven and will forgive their sins and will heal their land. 2 Chron. 7:14

I won't remember what was on my final grammar test, or who spoke in chapel last. I won't remember what I got demerits for or who was in each class. I may forget a lot of things, but September 11, 2001 I will never forget. I'll never forget how scared I was or how I just stood and stared. I'll never forget seeing my friends in tears because their families were in New York or worked as pilots, or in the military. I'll never forget these things. I'll tell my own kids one day, but I wonder what more they will have to tell theirs.

September 11, 2001

Class was interrupted to go to the cafeteria. There we found out that the World Trade Center and the Pentagon had been attacked by terrorists! Our President said that the people who did this had declared war on us. We all wondered who the people were. Who had done something so terrible? Every day we have had discussions dealing with these attacks in our classes. In Major Babs Tate's class we painted signs and wrote prayers on them. We wrote reports in some classes. Today we had a National Day of Prayer. Many of us were worried about our family members in New York and Washington, D. C. This is how the terrorist attacks effected my classmates and me.

-Kristen Navarro

Today is red, white, and blue day. It is national red, white, and blue day. I wish we could have it more often. It is practically a "civilian's day" at Chamberlain-Hunt Academy in 2001. I thought about wrapping a flag around me and going to school like that, but I knew that I would get in T-R-O-U-B-L-E!
 Josh Rose

Red, White, and Blue Day

Today is red, white, and blue day, not just for our school but for the whole nation. Today everyone wears red, white, and blue.

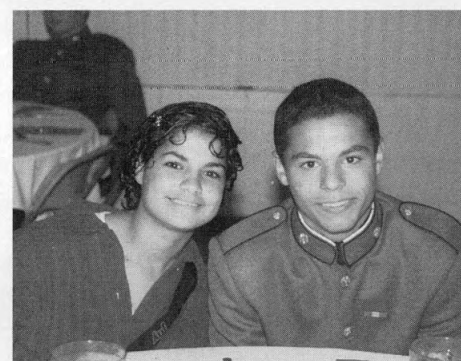

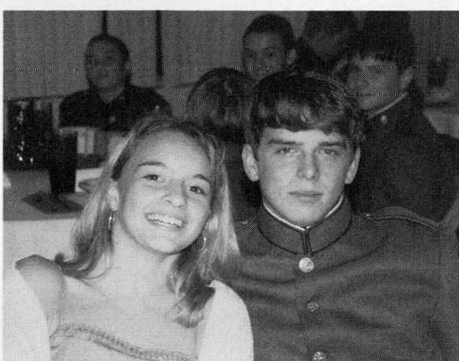

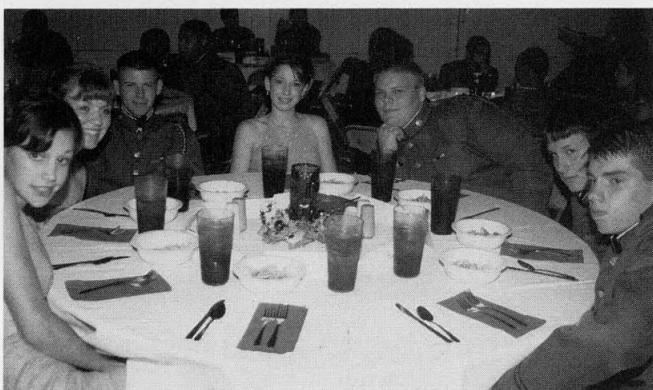

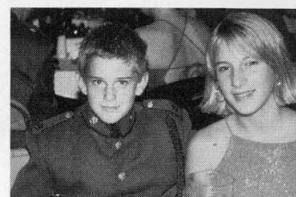

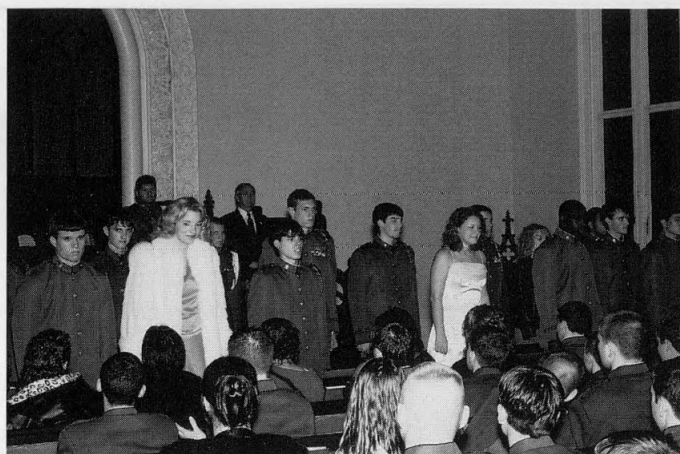

The day was just like a normal school day except we get to wear civilians instead of uniforms. The food was a little better today.

A ton of people are wearing American Flags on their shirts, while others wear normal clothes that are red, white, and blue. Some people had to wear uniforms because they didn't have the right kind of civilians.

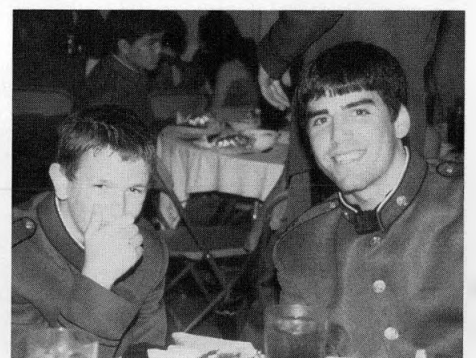

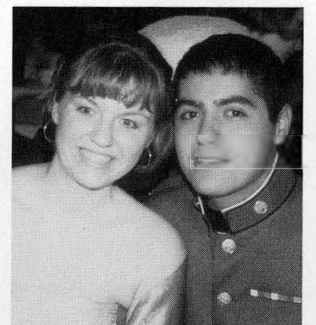

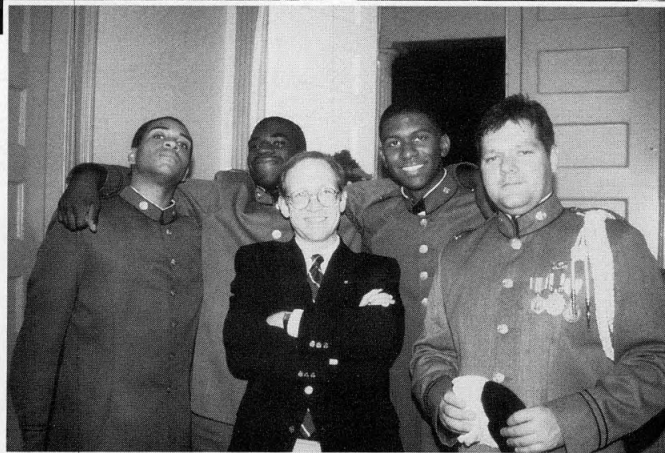

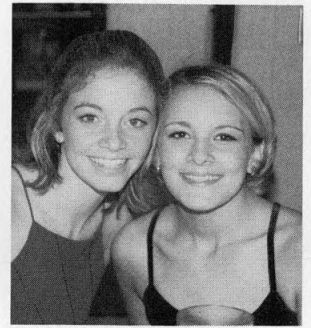

Sergeant Major did the flag today. That was cool. Today was fun.

Chapel

Get in formation.

Be quiet.

Stand still.

File in.

Sit down.

In chapel we do many things.

Sometimes we sing to our Lord.

Lord, our God, Holy, Holy, Holy.

Sing praises to the powerful Lord Almighty.

Sometimes we hear the preacher preach.

Listen to his guiding words.

We hear about love, life, and Jesus Christ.

We pray to the Lord - have faith in His salvation.

We hear and learn about our God in heaven.

Sometimes we drill in the hot sun.

Salute!

Forward March!

Sometimes we write memory verses,

to keep his Word in our hearts.

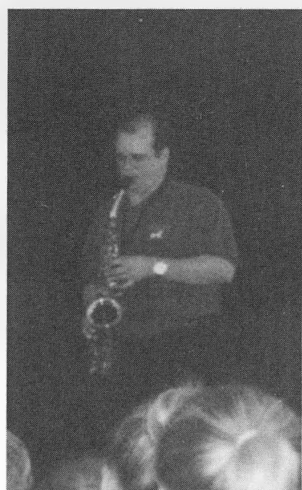

Sometimes we check our organizers,

which teaches us to be neat, organized, and structured.

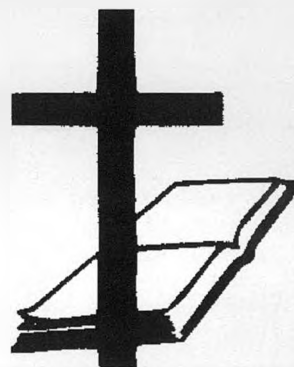

In chapel we do many things, different things.

But we always serve our Lord.

Frank Melton

He is a very kind and generous person. He cares about all the kids of this generation. He doesn't want anything to harm us. He wants every kid in the United States to be drug free and to have faith in themselves and in the Lord.

He has fifteen adopted children because he loves them and wants them to have a nice and healthy life.

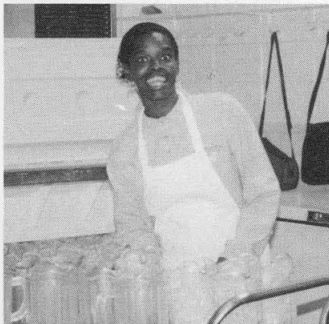

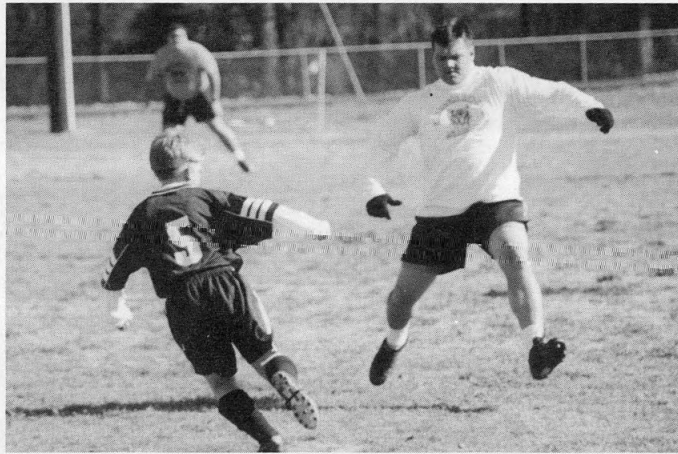

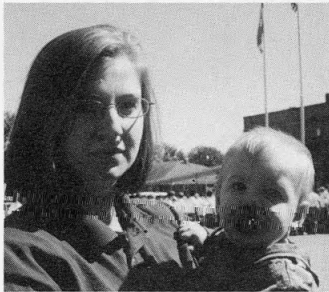

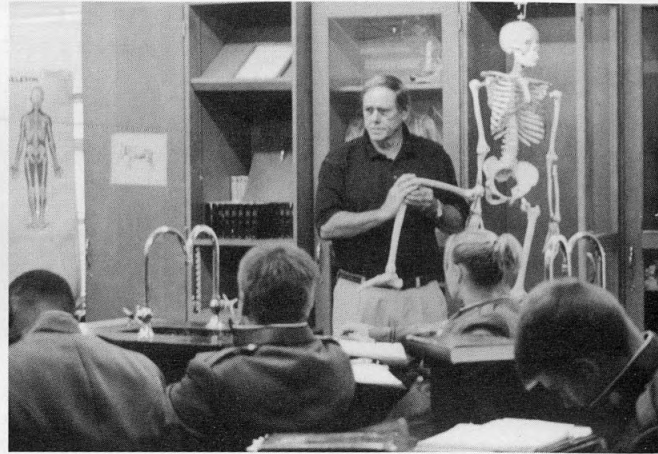

He gave a coin to Jeremy Mayo. If Jeremy keeps the coin until he graduates from CHA, Mr. Frank will give him a four-year scholarship to any college in Mississippi.

Mr. Melton donates money to different charities. He helps kids who are in need of help. I would like to be a person like him. It was an honor for Mr. Melton to come to our school. He has been a very large influence on me. -Lambert Culley
