CHA Brings Back the Newspaper!

A Letter from the Editor: Shreve Guthrie IV

This year the students of Chamberlain-Hunt Academy will be writing newspaper articles on various topics to keep you townsfolk informed of the happenings up on the hill. I gained some experience working on the CEF newspaper, and I'm going to use that experience as I edit this paper. In the CEF paper, we kept you up to date on almost everything that happened for that year (my fourth grade year), no matter how small. I hope to bring that same attitude to The Bulletin, but with topics of more serious content and, of course, with more sophisticated writing.

The Bulletin will feature student submitted articles on almost any topic that they want to share, ranging from classes and teachers to, say, the Belhaven football game that the school attended a few weeks ago.

All these articles will be published every other Wednesday, and will be delivered by Reid Wilson and myself that afternoon. We want to bring back the great tradition of this school's newspaper that had unfortunately faded, and to set the foundation for a Student-led newspaper for many great years to come, long after we've left the school. 🍷

Scouting Out New Skills

RYAN GOODWIN – NORTH PALM BEACH, FL

The square knot is the most important and crucial knot that a Boy Scout can learn in his growing experience as a Scout. It signifies the bonding experience that a Scout will take from this program, which is intended to grow young men into devoted U.S. citizens and strong leaders. For the first meeting of CHA's Troop 100, we learned to tie the square knot and had "tie-ing" races to see who could tie a square knot the fastest. It was a good start to a year of adventures in Scouting. Rev. Michael Herrin, of the First Presbyterian Church, is serving as the newly recommissioned Troop's Unit Commissioner. To the right is a picture of Rev. Herrin teaching eighth grader Carlos Cerda how to tie a square knot. 🍷

A New Era for CHA

REID A. WILSON – HUNTSVILLE, AL

This year is the start of something new at Chamberlain-Hunt; participation in the military program is no longer compulsory, but rather an optional extra-curricular activity. Locals may have noticed a change in uniform on our weekly walk to church. Rather than wear "Class Bs," students wear blazers, oxford shirts, and khakis.

The change to a "college-prep" environment has brought a more relaxed feel on campus, with classes focused more on academics, and a friendlier approach to student life, which has been good for both students and faculty alike. We look forward to writing this new chapter in the Academy's history, and we plan to be more involved in the community in the future. 🍷

“You Pay What You Owe!”

JERMAINE WEIR – NEW ROCHELLE, NY

Every day at basketball practice, before we even touch a ball, we do conditioning. Conditioning is running drills called “eights,” “sixes,” “fours,” and “twos.” (The name of the drill specifies the number of lengths of the court that we run.) They are not fun at all. But, when you finish, you feel accomplished - even though it feels like you just ran the whole Natchez Trace! After running, we start our actual practice. We start out with layups, form shooting, “Mikan” drills, drop step layups, defensive moves, and offensive moves. Coach Tolbert is a great basketball coach; we're thankful to have him here at CHA, and with his help our team can go all the way. His signature phrase is “You pay what you owe!” He means that if you don't give 100% in practice, he'll make you keep going until you do. However, the spirit of the phrase means more than that. It means that we'll give it everything we've got all the time. 🍷

Kicking Off the Soccer Season!

JACOB LEITH – FAIRHOPE, AL

Our soccer team this year is very small. We have 11 guys, which puts enough guys on the field and a few to sub-in. We have been mainly working on fundamentals and getting the team up to competing level. Most of our guys are first or second year players so their basic skills need to improve by game time. Our defense is solid and our attacking squad is working to get better. I believe this season is going to be successful. Since we only have five weeks left in the pre-season, practices are going to consist mostly of conditioning and fundamental drills. I believe in my team and that we can bring some wins back to this great school! GO WILDCATS!🐾

Cross-Country

ALEX CHESSEY – KNOXVILLE, TN

The cross-country team started training about a month ago, and we will have to train hard if we are going to earn a fourth state title. The current daily practice run is three laps around the outer perimeter of the wilderness, but that could change. Members of the team include Arri Williams, Eddie Forman, Jared Miller, Reid Wilson, William Wooten, Nicholas Weaver, and, of course, me, with Mr. McClure as the coach. Grant Merrill joined in time to participate in the first meet at Choctaw Trails in Clinton, MS. There were approximately two hundred participants at the meet. Five CHA runners placed at Choctaw Trails: Arri Williams – 19th, Grant Merrill – 32nd, Eddie Forman – 40th, Nicholas Weaver – 87th, and William Wooten – 140th. Reid Wilson, Jared Miller, and I did not participate in that meet, but we were right there with the rest of the team at the latest meet at Christ Covenant School. This time, only Grant did not run. The ones that did all placed! The results were: A. Williams - 28th, E. Forman - 37th, J. Miller - 76th, me - 91st, N. Weaver - 95th, R. Wilson - 101st, and W. Wooten - 117th.🐾

Fun Times in the Eatatorium

SAXON STROUD – LENOIR CITY, TN

The Eatatorium is a place for students to gather and play games like ping-pong, foosball, and video games, to watch movies, and, most importantly, to watch football. Last week we watched the Texas A&M vs. Alabama football game, and, much to the disappointment of Mr. Anderson (a recent A&M graduate), Texas A&M lost. We have watched Red Dawn, True Grit, and other movies. On Saturdays after morning activities, we hang out in the Eatatorium. Some of the ping-pong games can get very intense with people diving for the saves! The Eatatorium is a place for fun and relaxation, and it provides the student body with a place to hang out and just chill.🐾
