MAJ Jeffrey Brannen

Bible Teacher

We are excited to have added to our teaching cadre this year, MAJ Jeffrey Brannen. MAJ Brannen comes to us from Malta, Montana, and is teaching Bible to our 7th and 8th graders. His unique teaching style makes learning more enjoyable for these young Cadets. It is not uncommon to hear them humming and singing their Scripture and catechism memory work to one of MAJ Brannen's tunes.

Also, his goal is to introduce these Cadets to the "wonderful drama" of redemption. MAJ Brannen says, "So often, we want to skip the Old Testament to get to Jesus, however, if we're looking closely, we can see him on every page." He quotes Sally Lloyd-Jones by saying, "Every story whispers His name."

MAJ Brannen received his bachelor's degree in history with a minor in art from the University of Central Arkansas, and his master of divinity from the Reformed Theological Seminary in Jackson, MS.

“ My goal is to introduce these Cadets to the wonderful drama of redemption. ”

He also spent two years active duty as a Cavalry Scout and six years reserve as a Psychological Operations Specialist with the U.S. Army. During 2002, he spent seven months in Afghanistan attached to the 3rd Special Forces Group. Not surprisingly, he enjoys studying theology and military history, and is currently working his way through J.C. Ryle's masterpiece, Holiness. He finds himself both convicted and encouraged by Ryle's writings.

Three weeks ago, God blessed MAJ Brannen and his wife, Elizabeth, with the birth of their first son, Joshua.

Veterans Day Observance

Every year to honor veterans, Cadets march the American flag up Church Street on Veterans Day. Following the marching of the flag this year, Mr. Carey Hauenstein, a former Marine and current trustee of the Academy, will address the Cadets and the local veterans who assemble for a program at First Presbyterian Church.
