Cadet Profile: Mikhail Chavoustie

Mikhail Nathaniel Chavoustie of Granby, CO joined the Corps of Cadets when he was in the 9th grade. Cadet Chavoustie was born in Russia, but was adopted by a loving family in America when he was ten years old.

Cadet Chavoustie has held the title of Master Sergeant on the Battalion staff and as the color guard's Sergeant Major for the past two years. In this position he leads in chapel, parades and the daily handling of the American and the Academy flags. He has also participated on school sports teams such as golf, cross-country, track and basketball.

Among his accomplishments and awards are the Coach's Award, Principal's List, Commendation Award, Academic Achievement Award, Expert Cadet Badge, Color Guard ribbon and two choir ribbons.

When reflecting on his career at Chamberlain-Hunt, Cadet Chavoustie says

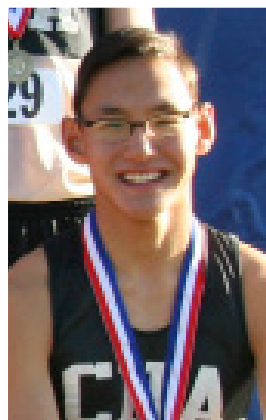

What I love the most about Chamberlain-Hunt is that it is in the country, and the skies are always open and there aren't any city objects to block God's natural creation away from humans. It is encouraging to see a brand new sunrise or sunset each day and know that my God did all that. The stars are all numbered and named by him. I truly think the campus was placed in a "Southern Paradise." Maybe by the capturing scenery one may come to know God.

When asked to give advice to someone new to Chamberlain-Hunt, he replied, "Do not be judgemental and let go more and more of yourself, and accept Jesus. Be more forgiving, even to those who deliberately go against you. And most important: be cheery, not as serious and not so hard on yourself or others."

MAJ Hubbard is one of the teachers Cadet Chavoustie says has influenced him the most. He says that in all of his thinking, life, faith and behavior, MAJ

Hubbard has taught him the very important lesson in life of looking out for and loving all others.

Cadet Chavoustie would like to enroll at Marion Military Institute next fall and study engineering mechanics and Russian. His long-term plan is to attend the Airforce Academy, but, "No matter what, I believe that God is in control, he has saved me and has better plans—plans to prosper and not to harm me, plans to give me a hope and a future!"
