Week 38 Highlights

Can you believe the autumn break has arrived? Cadets and cadre have worked hard these first six weeks of Chamberlain-Hunt's 128th year. Much has been accomplished. Exam week was full of reviewing, studying and testing; it ended with a Battalion run and a Pass in Review. At the Pass in Review, the Commandant presented several awards. Cadets Bonvillain and Hooper earned Marksmanship Awards. The following Cadets received Commendation Awards for outstanding performance: Biederbeck, Bogenreif, Chavoustie, Daughtry, Hanks, Hersey, Propst, Rickels and Wharton. Crusaders Callahan, Simpson and Whittemore also received Commendation Awards.

On Tuesday, Mississippi's governor, Haley Barbour, landed his helicopter on campus; COL Blanton and the Crusaders met him. A number of Cadets went to Port Gibson's City Hall to hear Governor Barbour address local officials and the public. This was Governor Barbour's second visit to campus in the last few years. He gave the commencement address at the final Pass in Review in 2005.

We trust everyone will have a restful break and be back ready to face the challenges of the second quarter. Cadets are to report to campus, in uniform, between 1 and 4 PM on Monday, 22 October 2007.
