Q56. What is the reason annexed to the third commandment?

A. The reason annexed to the third commandment is, that however the breakers of this commandment may escape punishment from men, yet the Lord our God will not suffer them to escape his righteous judgment.

Psalm 73:26. My flesh and my heart may fail, but God is the strength of my heart and my portion forever.

MAJ Jaime O. Coon

Art Education

While performing in a local theater production of Nunsense, MAJ Coon was recruited to interview for the position of commandant's assistant at Chamberlain-Hunt. MAJ Coon happily accepted the position in June of 2005.

With MAJ Coon's strong background in the arts, the administration knew that she was the one to take over visual art instruction when the position became open. MAJ Coon attended Hinds Community College in Raymond, MS and graduated with an Associate Degree in Applied Science in graphic design in May of 2003. After leaving Hinds, she attended Delta State University and earned her Bachelor of Arts in Art Education in May of 2005. In August of 2006, MAJ Coon transitioned into her new position as art teacher and also put her graphic design skills to work for the advancement office.

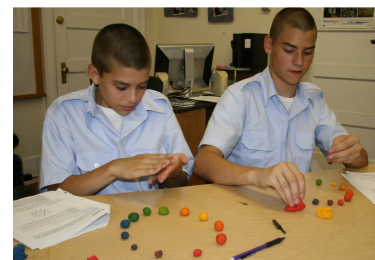

As if she were not busy enough, she and her husband, Jeffrey (a diesel mechanic by trade and deacon at Port Gibson Baptist Church), also welcomed the birth of their first child, Jasen Lee Coon in December of 2006.

One year later, MAJ Coon has implemented many new things into the art curriculum at Chamberlain-Hunt. She bases her curriculum on the Mississippi Frameworks for Visual Arts. Her goals are to expose Cadets to various media and art history, to improve the Cadets' pride in craftsmanship and to develop problem-solving skills that can be applied in the classroom as well as in everyday life. Her future goals are to expand the art department to include 3D art such as ceramics.

MAJ Coon remains actively involved in the Blue Barn Theater (a community theater) and also serves on the board of directors for Mississippi Cultural Crossroads. Her personal interests include creating pottery and singing in the choir at Port Gibson Baptist Church.
